What is a Restraining Order (RO)?

RO is a court order telling your partner (husband, wife, boyfriend, girlfriend) to stay away from you. This is for when your partner has hurt you recently and you are afraid it will happen again. Carry your RO papers with you and share with work, school and others.

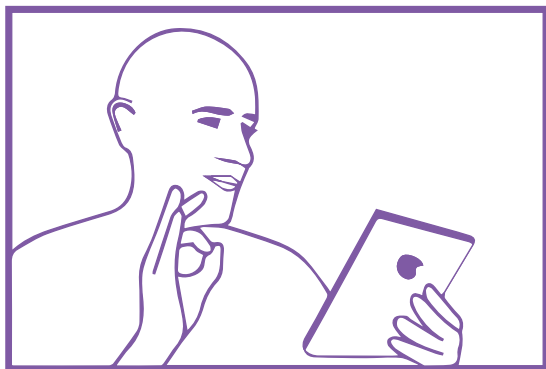

With a RO, your partner must stay 100 yards away.

They can't talk to you.

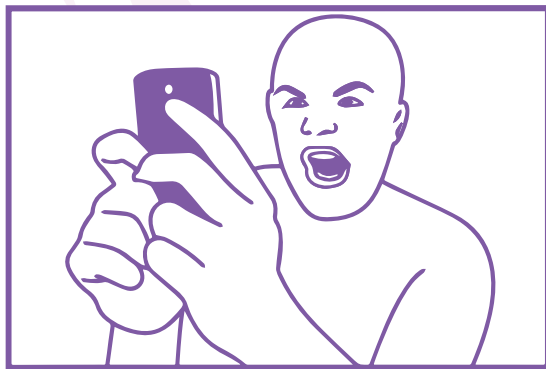

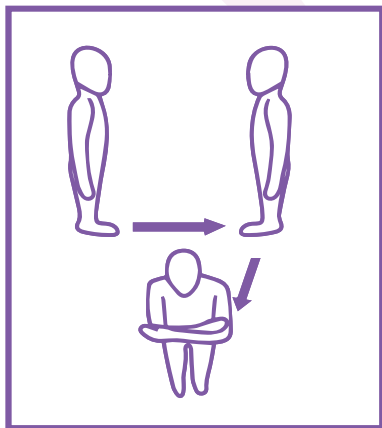

They can't follow you.

Your partner can't call on FaceTime, VP, Glide or anything else.

They can't send you a message
through a friend.

They can't even text you.

If your partner doesn't follow the rules, you can tell the police.
You do not deserve abuse.
You are not alone.
You have options.
